Township of Champlain BOIL WATER ADVISORY LIFTED

Vankleek Hill, December 13, 2017 – The BOIL WATER ADVISORY issued to residents in the Township of Champlain on December 10, 2017 has been LIFTED by the Eastern Ontario Health Unit (EOHU) after recent water samples confirmed that water from the Town of Hawkesbury as well as the Township of Champlain drinking water systems is safe for use and consumption.

“All residents of the Township of Champlain can be confident that their water is safe for drinking and for use,” states Dr. Paul Roumeliotis, Medical Officer of Health.

Mayor Gary Barton thanks the public for their patience and co-operation, as well as the Township of Champlain’s employees for their efforts in helping resolve this situation so quickly.

“I know that this situation has complicated people’s lives, especially for some of our local businesses and industries,” said the Mayor. “It has been a trying experience for many and I’m very thankful people have been so understanding throughout this process.”

“Such efforts are another example of the amazing community spirit that makes Champlain such a great place to live,” said Mr. Barton. “This has been a challenging situation and everyone involved has worked tirelessly for its resolution.”
